TROUBLESHOOTING

1. My TV screen is snowy or black. Confirm that electrical power is connected to both the TV and the STB (Set Top Box), and verify the TV is turned on. Your TV may be set to the wrong INPUT.

If your TV is connected to the STB using an Input such as HDMI-1 or AV1 press the TV (1) button then the INPUT (2) button on the TV remote and select the correct Input from the list that appears on the TV screen. For some TVs, you may need to use the TV's original factory remote to get the TV set to the correct input.

Once you have your television set to the correct input, you are able to view programming, make sure to push the STB (3) button on the STB remote before changing the channel.

2. My screen has a message that says "Press OK to watch TV".

Press the STB (3) button, then, locate the OK (4) button in the center of remote.

3. I have no sound, or the sound is garbled. Try changing channels, this will usually clear the issue.

4. I have a picture but cannot change channels or bring up the guide. Press the STB (3) button on the remote then try to change channels or use the guide. Try new batteries in the remote.

5. One of my streams stopped working, but the other two are working normally. Unplug the STB from the electrical outlet, wait 30 seconds and then reconnect. You will then see the STB re-boot progress on your television screen.

6. Pause Live TV and/or the DVR occasionally do not work. Unplug the STB from the electrical outlet, wait 30 seconds and then reconnect. You will then see the STB re-boot progress on your television screen.

7. My system seems to be locked up and it is not responding to any of the buttons on the remote.

Please note that our IPTV system operates using different technology compared to traditional cable systems. When using the remote, commands are transmitted to your STB, which acts like a computer and communicates with the network. Pressing multiple buttons simultaneously may overload the processor. If the system freezes, refrain from using the remote and allow it time to catch up. If issues persist, consider rebooting the STB by unplugging it from the electrical outlet for 30 seconds before reconnecting, and you will observe the reboot progress on your TV screen.

Set Top Box (STB) placement considerations:

The STB should be placed in an area that is well ventilated with no less than 2 inches of clearance space above the STB. Do not place anything in front of or on top of the STB's. The STB should be plugged directly into an electrical wall outlet or into a high quality power strip designed for audio/video applications.

If problems continue, please reach out to Swiftel support at 605-696-HELP (4357) for assistance.

Remotes can vary, button placement may differ.
